Santa Fe – The Taxation and Revenue Department (TRD) is moving its Audit and Compliance office in Roswell. The current office will close on noon April 16 and reopen at a new location on April 19.

TRD will close its Audit and Compliance office, currently located at 901 S. Main Street at noon on April 16. It will open its new office, located at 400 N. Pennsylvania Street, Suite 200 on April 19. The new office is wheel chair accessible through the Northeast building door and elevator. Access is also available by using the escalator at Southeast entrance to the building. For those needing curbside service - a drop box is located at the Southeast entrance across from Wells Fargo ATM and is available 24/7. There is no change in the phone number, which is (505)-624 6065 or (505)-627 2900.

TRD's current lease expired in December 2003. Lease proposals were requested and 400 N. Pennsylvania Avenue was determined to be the best feasible location. This new location will provide a better access to taxpayers and the local business district.

The department's Motor Vehicle Division, which shared the building with the Audit and Compliance Division, will continue to operate out of the 901 S Main Street.
